Should a Free Trade Agreement with Egypt be next on the U.S. trade agenda?

Egypt's Minister of Trade and leading representatives of the U.S. and Egyptian business community will discuss recent events and future prospects for economic reform in Egypt, U.S.-Egypt business ties, and business issues confronting the broader Middle East, on the occasion of the 2004 meeting in Washington of the U.S.-Egypt Business Council. The Council was formed in 1995 by the U.S. and Egyptian Governments to promote private sector business growth in Egypt and strengthen trade and investment ties between the two countries.

The US-Egypt Friendship Society (USEF) is a not-for-profit membership organization created to encourage friendship, mutual understanding, and cooperation between the United States and Egypt on our two nations' shared objectives. USEF is non-partisan and does not take positions on issues of policy before the U.S. or Egyptian government. Membership is open to individuals and corporations from both countries and to others interested in promoting a strong US-Egyptian relationship.
